Accessing the Collection:

1. Anyone wishing to use this collection for research purposes should complete a "Request for Restricted Materials" form which is available at the Circulation desk in the Library.
2. The materials may not be taken from the Library.
3. Only pencils and paper may be used while consulting the collection.
4. Photocopying and tracing of the materials are not permitted.

Classification

Books are arranged by author, then title. There will usually be four elements in the call number: the name of the collection, a cutter number for the author, a cutter number for the title, and the date. Where there is no author, the cutter will be A0 to indicate this, to keep filing in order. Other irregularities are demonstrated in examples which follow.

BldwnA <-- name of collection
H683 <-- cutter for author
O976 <-- cutter for title
1835 <-- date of publication

Example. A book by the author Thomas Boston, 1677-1732, entitled, Human nature in its fourfold state, published in 1812.
